I want a minimal design, so I am not sure about color schemes currently. I have been searching multiple sites and found a few I could model simplistic, design, and color schemes from.

I am not 100 percent sure if I want a left column in my layout, though it makes it easier to know what type of content you will find going down this path. I could make a nice drop-down menu do the same thing with a nice modern look to it.

Flex,
.flex1 { -webkit-flex: 1; flex: 1; }
.flex2 { -webkit-flex: 2; flex: 2; }
I think that'll do it, not quite sure.

Nice and simplistic, although, not sure if I want a single column, could do something along the lines of this https://codepen.io/Kseso/pen/xqNdmO/
or https://codepen.io/tvweinstock/full/wegZEW/
both require use of grid instead of flexbox.
